8:30AM to 12:00PM		BOD Breakfast / Meeting
10:15AM to 10:45AM	Blue Pre-Function	Welcome to IMLA Coffee Break	Join IMLA President and Executive Director for welcoming remarks and helpful tips for new and long-time attendees alike.
10:45AM to 11:45AM	Hampton Room	Section 1983: Covering The Bases – Tips For Successfully Litigating Qualified Immunity On Summary Judgment		Timothy Coates
10:45AM to 11:45AM	Blue Room	Capturing the Green in a Green Economy: Municipal P3s in Energy and Economic Development	As federal and state energy policy continues to increase renewable portfolio standards and more carbon-neutral energy sourcing, cities and towns are seeing an increase in the number of public-private-partnership opportunities in energy. This program will examine common procurement and contracting aspects that have led to successful municipal partnerships in energy and netted communities millions of dollars in local tax and other economic benefits while helping industry and communities meet their clean energy goals. First-in-the-nation wind, solar and battery storage programs will be highlighted in our “case-studies” approach. Brownfields redevelopment, use of surplus municipal property and coastal communities’ opportunity ride the wave of “off-shore” wind will also be featured.	Steven Torres
11:45AM to 1:00PM		Lunch	On your own.
1:00PM tp 2:00PM	Hampton Room	Understanding the Roles of Attorneys in Municipal Finance Deals & Sailing Through the Storm — What to do When the Government Calls	The first presentation will explain the different roles and duties of Municipal Lawyers, bond counsel, issuer’s counsel, disclosure counsel and registered municipal advisors in three types of public finance transactions: General Obligation Bonds, Revenue Bonds and P3 (Public Private Partnership) Transactions. DOJ and SEC Federal investigations of state and local government entities are on the rise. The added element of politics may complicate an effective response. This second presentation will cover recent cases along with ways to successfully navigate through the course of the investigation.	Paul Maco & David Rogers

1:00PM tp 2:00PM	Blue Room	Section 1983: Being Proactive in Use of Force Matters: How to Work with your Police Department to Improve Report Writing and Get Better Results at Trial	This presentation focuses on ways agency counsel and litigators can help police departments be more proactive in use of force matters by way of improved report writing with the goal of obtaining better results at trial. Effective report writing is an under-utilized tool that can assist officers in avoiding pitfalls in a use of force case by boosting their credibility and addressing the Graham factors. Video of a mock direct and cross-examination of a police officer who has written a poor report will be shown as part of the presentation to emphasis the need for effective report writing in use of force cases. The presentation will also cover how to deal with the potential inconsistencies between an officer's memory, particularly at the report-writing time, and any video of the event, whether the video is from a body camera or other camera.	Heather Mulloy & Robert Higgason
2:05PM to 3:05PM		Getting Your Drones Up In the Air-“What you need to know about unmanned aircraft systems (UAS) licensing, the legal landscape governing municipal use of drones, and how to go about developing policies to govern UAS for your organization.”	More and more law enforcement and governmental agencies are using Unmanned Aerials Vehicles (UAVs) to support public safety initiatives. These unmanned aircraft can assist in a variety of ways. When implementing UAVs within your agency, it is key to balance public safety advantages with the public's trust. Writing a solid UAS policy is crucial. This session will help assist participants with developing their agency's UAS policy and will cover the laws that apply to municipal use of drones including the Fourth Amendment, FAA and Congressional mandates, and preemption issues.	Brandt Clark & Rebecca Lipman Moderator: Erich Eiselt
2:05PM to 3:05PM		Section 1983: Establishment Clause Issues for Local Governments	From monuments to historic preservation, local governments often find themselves in the middle of competing interests when it comes to Establishment Clause issues. Unfortunately, the law in this area is murky at best and local governments are frequently the target of litigation. Local governments may get some much needed clarity in this area of the law after the Supreme Court decides and important Establishment Clause case this year. Hear about the state of the law in this area as well as practical considerations for local governments to stave off Establishment Clause claims.	Paul Zidlicky & Michael Buschbacher
3:05PM to 3:20PM	Blue Pre-Function	Coffee Break
3:20PM to 4:50PM	Blue Room	Supreme Court Update	The 2018 Supreme Court term saw a new Justice added to the Court and many cases that are relevant to local governments. In particular, cases this term included whether a plaintiff may bring a First Amendment retaliatory arrest claim even where an officer has probable cause to arrest, whether the Establishment Clause requires the destruction of a nearly century year old war memorial because it was on public land (and whether the Lemon test should survive for Establishment Clause cases), an important takings case, and a number of cases having to do with state sovereignty. And in what are sure to be the blockbuster cases, the Justices have also agreed to again take up the issue of partisan gerrymandering this term. Hear from three prominent Supreme Court practitioners about the impact of these cases and others for local governments.	Paul Clement, Melissa Sherry & Carter Phillips Moderator: Lisa Soronen
4:50PM to 5:20PM	Blue Room	Amicus Awards
5:30PM to 7:30PM	Empire Ballroom	Welcome Reception

7:45AM to 8:45PM	Empire Ballroom	State Breakfast	Separate registration required.
9:00AM to 10:00AM	Blue Room	Section 1983: Police Interactions with the Mentally Ill	The first presentation will focus on the emerging trend of plaintiffs pleading Monell claims based on the theory that the a police department fails to train officers how to adequately respond to mentally ill individuals in a variety of settings. Courts appear to be breaking with prior patterns and finding such allegations sufficient to state a claim for municipal liability at the pleading stage. This presenter will discuss these trends and how to defend against them.	Melanie Speight & Chief Brian Manley Moderator: H. Gray Laird
9:00AM to 10:00AM	Hampton Room	Land Use: Getting Ahead of Land Transactions: The Dirt on Real Estate Manuals	This presentation will discuss the benefits of adopting a uniform manual to guide municipal officials and staff in processing and approving land transactions. Discussion topics include: types of public property; applicable law; acquisitions, disposition, leases, licenses and permits; funding sources; relocation issues; approval authority; public process options; and drafting considerations.	Wynetta Massey
10:05AM to 11:05AM		IMLA's Model Social Media Policy	Over the course of several months an IMLA committee has worked to develop a model social media policy. During this session, committee members will explain the elements of the policy, its goals, and ideas for its implementation. The committee will take feedback on the policy and hopes to release a final version before July 1.	Chuck Thompson & Marion Radson Moderator: Jennie Tarr
10:05AM to 11:05AM		Section 1983 and ADA Claims against Correctional Officers	The increase in handling situations involving people with physical and mental disabilities has become a growing challenge for law enforcement. The first presentation will address ADA claims against law enforcement in the context of correctional facilities. The second presentation will discuss a recent case involving a mentally ill inmate who died in custody and the resultant Section 1983 claims that were brought against the nurses and the City for the inmate's death. Tips on litigating these claims as well as policy suggestions will be provided	Jeb Brown & Valorri Jones
11:05AM to 11:20AM	Blue Pre-Function	Coffee Break
11:20AM to 12:50PM		Telecommunications: An Update on, and Responses to, the FCC's Encroachment into Local Rights-of-Way Management, Zoning and Cable Franchising Authority	This session will provide an update on the FCC's Small Cell Orders, local governments' appeal of the orders and other advocacy responses. It will also focus on the FCC's proposal to permit an offset against cable franchise fees for non-financial obligations of a cable franchise. This session will also offer the insights of a leading IMLA member with communications responsibilities in a state that has both state level small cell and cable franchise statutes. Learning Objectives: 1) Gain an understanding of the threats arising from FCC actions. 2) Learn how one major community is responding to the dual FCC threats of small cells and franchise offsets proposals. 3) Receive an update on pending legislative and regulatory threats/opportunities.	Donald Knight, Gerard Lederer & Joseph Van Eaton

11:20AM to 12:50PM		Section 1983: Trending Issues and Hot Topics	Hear from civil rights litigators on trending topics in Section 1983 litigation. The first presentation will focus on recent equal protection claims being brought by victims of sexual assault against police departments for failure to investigate the assault.	Sara Schaefer, Meghan Riley & Jack Ryan
12:50PM to 2:30PM		Lunch	On your own.
2:30PM to 3:30PM		Section 1983: Opening/ Summation in a Federal Civil Rights Use of Deadly Force Case	An opening and summation from a recently tried Federal Civil Rights case involving a police fatal shooting will serve as the backdrop for this 1 hour presentation exploring practice tips for trying these types of civil cases.	Patricia Miller
2:30PM to 3:30PM		Riding (or Scooting) into a New Area of Mobility: Navigating New Risks Through Smart Regulation and Proactive Collaboration	Emerging transportation technologies are being quickly integrated into communities. While dockless micromobility like bikes and scooters present regulatory challenges, they also provide opportunities to enhance mobility and realize priorities around reducing congestion and emissions. This innovation focused discussion will provide an overview of the national regulatory landscape around dockless technologies, offer best practices on legal and policy issues, and discuss infrastructure considerations for the cities of the future. Panelists will provide local, state and national perspectives on understanding and mitigating both new and unknown risks that come with new emerging technologies being deployed on our sidewalks and roads. Further, presenters will discuss the new IMLA Guidance for Regulation of Dockless Micromobility.	Greg Rodriguez & Roi Lusk Moderator: Negheen Sanjar
3:45PM to 4:45PM		Section 1983; First Amendment Speech Considerations	Cities routinely allow private parties to advertise on various City spaces, such as buses, bus shelters, airport advertising spaces, or billboards. The first presentation will explore the limitations that the First Amendment imposes upon cities in fashioning its advertising policies on city spaces, including whether cities can impose content-based limitations, such as restrictions on political advertising, in city spaces; and how the nature of the forum itself affects the limitations that cities can identify. This presentation will also provide recommendations as to how a city can carry its burden in litigation of proving the reasonableness of its restrictions. The next presentation will examine the continuing impacts of the US Supreme Court's decision in Reed v. Town of Gilbert, which forced many local governments to rethink their approach to sign regulation. Almost four years later, Reed's repercussions go far beyond signs. Lower courts have applied Reed's views on content neutrality to cases involving issues such as panhandling, adult entertainment, public meetings, noise regulations and First Amendment buffers. This presentation will look at the ways Reed has shaped thinking on content neutrality and how local governments should respond.	Craig Gottlieb & Roger Horner Moderator: Julian Grant
3:45PM to 4:45PM		State League	The agenda will include introductions, approval of minutes, the IMLA Board Report and Executive Director Report. The remainder of the meeting will be devoted to a presentation and discussion regarding tax issues for 501 and 115 associations.	Matthew Journy

7:30AM to 8:10PM	Blue Pre-Function	Coffee Break
8:05AM to 9:05AM	Blue Room	Constitutional Issues Associated With Managing Homeless Encampments	Residents experiencing homelessness is not a novel issue for any municipality, but recent surges in addiction have compounded the issue dramatically. Many cities are now grappling with the management encampments of homeless drug users. Such encampments can attract users, both local and long-distance, leading to spikes in the number of drug users and overdoses in concentrated areas, unsightly and potentially hazardous waste, increases in crime and the need for shelter and services. Managing encampments creates a myriad of potential legal issues that should be carefully considered in crafting a comprehensive plan to address encampments and their residents.	Meghan Claiborne
