

December 12 - Land Use

Sex, Sex, and More Sex

SPEAKER:

Alan Weinstein holds a joint appointment as Professor of Law at Cleveland State University's Cleveland-Marshall College of Law and Professor of Urban Studies at Maxine Goodman Levin College of Urban Affairs. Prior to his appointment at Cleveland State, he taught at the University of Wisconsin School of Architecture & Urban Planning, the Jacob D. Fuchsberg Law Center at Touro College, and Wayne State University Law School. Professor Weinstein received a B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania, a Master of City Planning (M.C.P.) from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and a law degree (J.D.) from the University of California, Berkeley.

Professor Weinstein is a nationally-recognized expert on city planning law who has had extensive involvement with First Amendment issues, particularly in the land use context. He has served as Chair of the Sub-committee on Land Use & the First Amendment in the American Bar Association's (ABA) Section of State & Local Government Law and has extensive experience with land-use regulations and other laws that raise First Amendment issues due to their affect on individual expression, religious institutions, adult entertainment businesses, and signs, billboards, or news-racks. Professor Weinstein is co-author of Federal Land Use Law & Litigation, a one-volume treatise published in annual editions by Thomson Reuters.
