Body Worn Cameras: Federal and State Legal Issues for Municipalities and Public Safety Departments

SPEAKER BIOS

Paul A. Cappitelli, Law Enforcement Specialist, Best Best & Krieger LLP: Paul is a career law enforcement professional with 35 years of experience. He served five years as executive director of the California Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST). Prior to this, he was with the San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department for 29 years, retiring at the rank of captain. Paul has worked in various capacities during his law enforcement career including patrol, traffic, custody, homicide investigation, public affairs, gang enforcement, and academy director. At Best Best & Krieger, he provides a variety of services to law enforcement and other public safety agency clients, including critical incident/ administrative investigation support, assistance with public safety defense litigation for alleged constitutional violations and physical torts, ethics and public integrity issues, and training and administrative policies.

Gary W. Schons leads Best Best & Krieger's Public Policy and Ethics Compliance practice as of counsel in the firm's Municipal Law practice group. He counsels public agencies, officials and private businesses who wish to promote public confidence in their decision-making processes by assuring that official conduct is above reproach. The group's goals are to provide comprehensive and strategic compliance solutions to public agencies and corporations attempting to align with public scrutiny, standards and regulations; to advise and represent clients on public integrity issues involving political practices; and to inform clients of relevant federal, state and local legislation. Prior to joining the firm, Gary served as a deputy district attorney and senior advisor for Law & Policy in the San Diego County District Attorney's Office.
