

MOBILE WORKSHOP
IMLA's 80th Annual Conference
October 4, 2015
Las Vegas, Nevada

IMLA will be having its ever popular Mobile Workshop on Sunday; space is limited so first come, first served. This annual bus tour is a perennial favorite and a unique opportunity for IMLA conference attendees to learn how land use challenges have been met by the host city. This year's tour focuses on Downtown Las Vegas. The downtown area has experienced a tremendous amount of growth and development in the last five years. In addition to a thriving gaming district, it now includes a unique blend of restaurants, bars, and shopping. Investors, including Zappos and the Downtown Project, have also helped make downtown Las Vegas a place of entrepreneurial opportunity for many small businesses and tech companies. Downtown Las Vegas is home to the historic casinos of Fremont Street, the Fremont Street Experience, the Container Park, an Arts District, and museums such as the Natural History Museum, the Mob Museum, the Neon Museum, the Lied Museum for children and the Art Deco-inspired Smith Center for the Performing Arts.

Tickets will be issued and required to have to board the bus. Bus departure times will be staggered so please look at your ticket for your buses departure time and get to the bus loading area 10 minutes before your tour starts, so everyone is seated for an on-time departure.

Time: 2pm to 5pm

Departure: location will be forthcoming

NOTE: There are limited bus seats available for this educational Workshop. IMLA encourages local government lawyers with an interest in land use to register early for this program. Bus seats will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. Besides being registered for the Annual Conference, you must register separately for this Mobile Workshop. Only registered attorneys and REGISTERED guests for the Conference are eligible to register for the Mobile Workshop.

COST: Conference Registrants: There is a charge of $30 each for this event to cover the cost of the buses. There will be no refunds.
